Presidents Message

Former Members Pass

Wow! What an exciting board you have working for you this coming year. It should be a dynamite time and I'm sure each of you will be requested to be involved even more than you have been. What a fortunate organization we are to have such top-notch representation.

I want to take a moment to personally thank each of you for your participation in our society, whether as my personal supporter, as a volunteer on a project, as a board member, as a participant in any of our events, or as an attendee at our meetings. Each of you has given strength to our organization and to me personally, and for that I am eternally grateful. Thank you for allowing me to represent our society, thank you for seeing the best in all of us and for forgiving me my downfalls. Happy holidays.

With hugs and smiles, Laura

The board and membership wish our heartfelt thanks and respect to Laura Pemberton-Sparr and Rita Schulze for their time and volunteer work in these positions.

Incoming SVGS President Hazel Rasar helping teach at her table at the recent October Heritage Festival.

The Skagit Valley Genealogical Society wishes to extend to the family of Jane Russell its heartfelt condolences for the passing of a wonderful woman. The board of directors enjoyed the time she spent as Treasurer for the society and the times she could attend field trips to Salt Lake City along with her daughter and granddaughter. She will be greatly missed. Obituary reprinted with the permission of her family. We also extend our condolences to the family of former SVGS member Charlene Smith. Donations to the Malcolm H. Stern NARA Gift Fund will be made in both their names.

Jane Elizabeth Russell, 93, of Mount Vernon, Washington died peacefully on Wednesday, September 27, 2006 at her home with loving family around her.

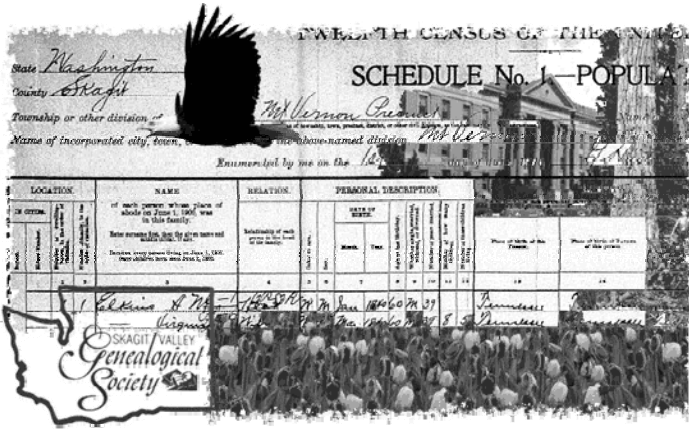

She was born Elizabeth Jane Russell on June 8, 1913 in Medford, Wisconsin, the eldest daughter of Lyman Davis and Helen Devereux (Urquhart) Russell and granddaughter of Augustus Sumner and Nancy Thomas (Davis) Russell and Elias Leonard and Catherine (Devereux)

Urquhart. She grew up in Medford and attended Medford High School graduating in the Class of 1931. She attended college in Stevens Point, Wisconsin. It was while she was at Stevens Point that she married her first husband, Rev. Donald O. Mills. They had a family of 5 children, the oldest born in 1933. They moved from Wisconsin in 1948 to Kirkland, Washington. The family moved to Seattle in 1951. Shortly afterward, this marriage dissolved. Jane began working as a bookkeeper at the United Church of Christ (Congregational) Conference offices in Seattle in November 1951 to support her family that she was raising on her own. She retired from there in 1983, after 31 ½ years of continuous service. In September 1962, Jane married Louis A. Pedersen, and resided in Bellevue, Washington, next door to her daughter and son-in-law Marian and Jim. Jane and Lou were happily married until his death in 1986. She later

Letter to the SVGS Board,

We have written this letter to show our gratitude for the work that Skagit Valley Genealogical Society has done. On a weekly basis we receive requests for information about the whereabouts of loved ones. The first tool we use in our search is the Index to Funeral Home Records. We have at our disposal a book that has references from up to 170 different volumes of funeral home records. One must also take into account that this information comes from 6 different homes. Two of which no longer exist. With this book we save many hours, and are able to serve the community with accurate information in a short period of time. Thanks again for all your hard work.

Local News from Skagit County 2006 Heritage Award

The Skagit County Historical Society Board of Trustees has awarded this years Heritage Award to Wallie V. Funk of Anacortes. Presented by Vice President Bud Moore for outstanding contributions to the preservation, interpretation and promotion of Skagit County history.

Wallies grandparents Valentine & Barbara Funk came to Anacortes in the early 1890's to become prominent in the Anacortes business community with their purchase of the Wilson Hotel by the end of the nineteenth century.

Born to Wallie Sr. & Irene (Brown) in 1922, Wallie Jr. following WWII found himself back in Anacortes working as a small town journalist and purchased the Anacortes American newspaper with partner John Webber by 1950. Wallie very much used his paper to help advocate historical preservation locally, on both Fidalgo Island & Whidbey Island.

Culminating in a lifetime of thoughtful works and following retirement in 1989, Wallie gathered together a huge store of photographs collected including some shot by himself since 1950— he wrote a weekly column for the Anacortes American from 1994 to 2001 to tell stories that reflected social changes in the previous century.

In his honor the Skagit Valley Herald produced its second volume of The Skagit Collection titled First Views in 2002 with Wallies Funks immense collection of photographs.

Currently the Anacortes History Museum is running his Focus on Community: The Wallie Funk Collection exhibit that will run through March 2008. This exhibit showcases the extensive photos collected by the publisher and city historian.

Congratulations Wallie.

Genealogy Groups

Genealogists are accustomed to finding information in the most unlikely places. One of those places is on the internet. Microsoft Networks (MSN) has thousands of groups of every interest that one could have or even imagine. To narrow your search to genealogy groups, you begin by selecting your favorite search engine and then typing MSN groups "genealogy". You will get about a million responses. To further focus your search you can add a state or even a city. MSN groups + genealogy + Waterloo, Iowa.

These groups are well organized and are run by a manager and often 1 or 2 assistant managers. You will need to join the groups to be able to access the information that you may seek. I would suggest looking over each group first, reading some of the messages offered on the message board, viewing some of the features on the left hand column. If you like what you see, and then you can apply to join the group. Most MSN groups encourage open enrollments; however some groups are very fussy and may ask you to give them information verifying who you are. Just remember, do not give out any personal information that can compromise you or your family. I would never divulge my address, phone number, social security number etc. Probably not a good idea to use your real name.

Here is a link that will give you a list of MSN genealogy groups. <http://groups.msn.com/Browse?CatId=107>

The page says there are 2993 genealogy groups. Here are some quick examples of what you will see.

Children of the Pioneers was authored by members of the Whidbey Island Chapter of the Daughters of the Pioneers of Washington and donated to our Society Library collection by Darlene Libbey. Thank You! This collection of 25 stories shows that the children of the original pioneers were resourceful and enterprising too. Black and white photographs accompany the articles along with an index (there are several Libbey's listed) and a few maps. This neat little volume will also be in the file cabinet along with Whidbey Island items.

Do you know where the phrase "getting stumped" comes from? William Dollarhide has another article on the website "genealogical .com" that talks about one of the early trails called Zane's Trace, a trail that early settlers used in the western migration. The answer is found at the end of the article. This is another of the informative and interesting articles you will find on this website, along with books and CD's for sale, some at bargain prices.

The Library Volunteer sign up list has been filled for the remainder of this year. The following people will serve: Deidre Ridgway, Joyce Liston, Colleen Thulen, Walt & Dorothy Johnson and Shirley Christensen.

Thank you to these members and all the others that fill in from time to time, you are appreciated. New members, this is a great way to find out what is available right here.

You can help the Society by buying your favorite genealogical item of interest from our website through an affiliate program with the publishers. Simply click on the links to the magazine or website of your choice, pay for whatever you are interested in and the society will receive a small commission for you doing so.

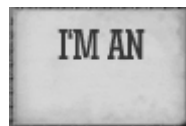

A simple way to help contribute to Skagit Valley Genealogical Society and their ongoing works.
