

President's Message

Last year at this time I was writing my first president's message. Yes, I was wondering how our society worked together to make it all happen but I was confident it would. I learned that Hazel Rasar was the big push in the background to hold the pieces together for our society in recent years. Seems like she knows everybody so her network of contacts is not only local but statewide and beyond. Of course, she has had plenty of help from our active board members who are a very dedicated group of genealogists. Hazel has retired from active participation now but her advice and insight this past year have been invaluable to me. I thank her for this!

As it turned out 2015 was a busy year with many of us, especially our seminar leader Barbara Johnson and her committee, preparing for and holding our very successful September seminar. The board held a retreat last spring and I was able to learn more about our society's issues and the personalities and strengths of our board members. Over this past year our board approved the purchase of a projector screen, sound system, projector and laptop computer to update our society's equipment. Yes, 2015 has been a good year and we look forward to 2016.

Last year I mentioned that my goal was to keep education at the forefront to keep our society growing. Education through a series of classes and/or a seminar are critical to maintain and increase our membership. Our board will be considering our options very soon regarding classes and/or a seminar this New Year.

Education is not limited to classes or a seminar. Our library volunteers and our Genealogist Diane Partington work with the public to educate and assist them in their genealogy research. Our monthly membership meeting programs provide another opportunity for educating our members and non-members alike. All phases of our society's educational program are important for enhancing our mutual interest in genealogy. Let's keep it fun and grow.

So 2016, here we come!

Access Restrictions to Social

The Social Security Death Master File, maintained by the US Social Security Administration (SSA), is a database of death records collected from a variety of sources used by the SSA to administer their programs. This includes death information collected from family members, funeral homes, financial institutions, postal authorities, States and other Federal agencies. The Social Security Death Master File is not a comprehensive record of all deaths in the United States—just a record of those deaths reported to the Social Security Administration.

Find: Looking Back on the Original Star Wars

When Star Wars (later retitled Star Wars Episode IV: A New Hope) was released in the United States on May 25, 1977, it was an immediate sensation. Show after show sold out, with many viewers returning to see the film more than once. It received near-universal praise from film critics as well and went on to break all kinds of records for box-office earnings, attendance, and length of run. It surpassed Jaws as the top-grossing film of all time and retained that title until 1982, when it was overtaken by ET, though it still remains one of the most financially successful films.

Genealogy Quiz

1. You have the names of three siblings born between 1884 and 1887 and need to know the names of their parents. Which census would be the best one to start with?

- 1880
- 1890
- 1900
- 1910

2. IGI stands for...

- International Genealogical Index
- Index of German Immigrants
- Itemized Guardianship Inventories
- Irish Geographical Index

3. The best place to start your genealogical research is...

- Internet
- Grandma
- National Archives
- Mormon Library

4. It's been said that "genealogy of place" is vital to doing research. This means that the most important thing to do when you find out the name of the town an ancestor was from is to...

- learn the important people in a town's history
- determine where the town is located and how boundaries have changed over time
- go to the town itself to research your family's history
- learn where the cemeteries are located in the town

5. An ancestor died intestate. This means...

- he left no will
- he was traveling out of state when he died
- he died in a state prison
- his body was never found
- great aunt
- half-sister
- second cousin
- first cousin once removed

6. Your grandfather's sister's daughter is your...

- great aunt
- half-sister
- second cousin
- first cousin once removed

7. The standard way to write May 8th, 1904 is...

- 5/8/04
- 5/8/1904
- 8 May 1904
- May VIII 1904

8. You do not know your grandmother's maiden name. She was married several times. The surname you will use for her on a pedigree chart is...

- the surname of her first husband
- the surname of your grandfather
- the surname she had when she died
- none of the above

9. You found several records that give your ancestor's birthdate. Rank the sources for reliability.

- 1834 baptismal record
- 1850 census
- 1902 death record
- 1974 family history book

10. Finding the original meaning of your surname will help you in researching your ancestors.

- True
- False

Answers to Genealogy Quiz

1. 1900

The siblings were not born in 1880, so that census would do no good and by 1910, they were probably not living with their parents. The 1890 census was 99% destroyed and for all practical purposes, does not exist. Learning what is available on each census is a basic bit of knowledge for genealogists.

2. International Genealogical Index

The IGI is the world's largest genealogical database with births and marriages of over 300 million people worldwide. What makes it so valuable is that it is derived from primary sources. Information from the birth/marriage records of many U.S. counties and European churches has been extracted to the IGI. It also contains unverified information sent in by individuals, but you can easily tell which is extracted and which is submitted. This information is available free of charge at any LDS Family History Center as well as many public libraries. The Mormons (Latter Day Saints) are interested in genealogy for religious reasons but you don't have to be Mormon to take advantage of their work. They have amassed an incredible collection of records from all over the world. These records are on one and a half million rolls of microfilm and are housed in a giant library in Salt Lake City. If you can't get to Salt Lake, they maintain branch libraries known as Family History Centers where you can rent the microfilms for a few dollars each. I can't imagine doing genealogy without using this resource.

3. Grandma

Grandma and the rest of your older relatives should be where you start. The biggest regret family historians voice is that they didn't ask questions when they could. Since you always start from what you know and work back from there, you'll take what you learn from Grandma to make family group sheets and pedigree charts. Next, you'll probably want to write to the county courthouses to get vital records (birth, marriage, death) of all the people on your pedigree chart. The National Archives, home of the census and important immigration and military information, is probably your next stop. Then you'll want to explore all the goodies at the Mormon library and on the Internet.

4. Determine where the town is located and how boundaries have changed over time

Whether you are searching in Elk Garden, Virginia or Vörstetten, Germany, knowing the location is vital to being able to do your research. And not only do you need to know where a place is now, you need to know where it was when your ancestors were there. Since for the US, the county is the keeper of many of the records, knowing how county boundaries have changed tells you where to look for the records of your ancestors. Other parts of the world have their own "genealogy of place." German records, for example are mostly kept at the local level. Kingdoms, duchies, and states all changed boundaries over time. Having names and dates without places is useless and does not tell you anything about the lives of your ancestors. Whenever I see a "genealogy" on the Internet with just names and dates, I click the Back button. The people listed may be related but I have no way of knowing.

5. Died without a will

Before you spend your time and money climbing your family tree, learn the terms used by genealogists so that you can communicate with others. Find a book at your local library or a site on the Internet that discusses the principles of genealogy and these basics concept

Standard forms and conventions

Primary vs. secondary evidence

Documenting sources

Record groups: census, vital, military, church, probate, land, immigration

How to construct a query

6. First cousin once removed

Relationships are what families are made of, so be sure you know the terms used to define a family. And don't think a fifth cousin is too distant to care about -- you'll want to know all the branches of your family and you'll meet many of them online.

7. 8 May 1904

Always use a 4-digit year -- the year 2000 problem is nothing new to genealogists! Put the day before the month, as they do in most countries. Spelling out the month helps avoid confusion.

There are conventions and standards used by genealogist. Learn how names, dates, and places -- the basic building blocks of genealogy -- are written before you start entering the information on charts or in your computer.

8. None of the above

Always use a woman's maiden name. If you don't know a person's name, don't substitute another one.

Some other name and place conventions are: Do not use titles such as Mrs., Dr., Jr., III, or Esq. in a person's name. They are relative terms and not part of their name.

Write US places as city, county, state. Since the county is vital to doing US genealogy, don't leave it out. Look it up if you don't know it. There are standard conventions for other countries as well.

9. 1 - 2 - 3- 4

The baptismal record, recorded at the time the event occurred in the most reliable. In general, the closer the record to the event, the more reliable. Another consideration is who supplied the information. The census information was probably given by a parent but could have been given by a neighbor or a child. Keep in mind that if it had been the 1840 census instead of the 1850, no names other than for the head of household are given and other family members are just "hash marks" under sex/age range columns. Information on a death record is usually filled in by someone who was not present at the birth and so birth information is second-hand information. Unless the family history book includes sources, the information in it can be considered merely clues for you to research. Same for undocumented information you find on the Internet.

10. False

Surnames were used long before they were commonly recorded. You will probably not be able to trace back to when surnames were first used. (There are some exceptions, for example the early Dutch in America.) So how your ancestors got the name will not help you find them.

Before this century, spelling was not important, most people could not write, and foreign names were mangled or contorted. Over the many years since your ancestors first started using a surname, it could have changed in ways you could not know. For these reasons, saying something like, "Our Elliotts have always spelled it with two L's and two T's" may mean you'll miss some important clues.

And don't forget that the surname you have is not the surname of all your ancestors. It is, in fact, your least reliable line, but often the one pursued most vigorously by men (yes, men) who are newcomers to genealogy.

President's Message

Here we are in late February as I write this and winter has stayed in the foothills for another year. Thank you! It is time to get out and see what our society has to offer. Let's start by attending our membership meetings and enjoying our excellent programs.

Our March 12 program titled "The Silent Stones Speak: An Introduction to Gravestone Icons" will be featuring our own Margie Wilson. She will discuss late 19th to 20th Century cemetery art using photographs from Burlington's Green Hills Memorial Cemetery and her travels in Europe. The program is free and open to the public so bring a friend. You don't have to be a genealogist to be intrigued by the variety of headstones at our local cemeteries and wonder what they mean.

Our recently retired V.P. Carol Torset and our new V.P. Margie Wilson have great programs lined up for the remainder of the year. On April 9 the program titled "An Introduction to Eastern European Family History" will be presented by the well-known genealogist Dave Obee. He will give us some insight into the boundary changes and unfamiliar languages to help make research in countries such as Ukraine and Poland less difficult.

Our society's board has several issues to discuss at a retreat planned for late February. These are subjects that are too time consuming to take up at a regular board meeting. Two items of importance is our future seminar and beginning classes. Stand by for a date and place. Diane Partington has graciously offered to host this

Family Tree Maker to be Continued and With More Options Than Ever Before

blog.eogn.com/2016/02/02/family-tree-maker-to-be-continued-and-with-more-options-than-everbefore/
Dick Eastman

The above headline should be published in a very large font. Ancestry, Inc., the publisher of Family Tree Maker genealogy software, today announced that the program will not be “retired” after all. Instead, Ancestry, Inc. has sold the program to another company that plans to maintain it and develop it further. In addition, Ancestry, Inc. also plans to connect Ancestry with the RootsMagic software by the end of 2016. This should be a delightful announcement for the many users of RootsMagic.

The following was written by Kendall Hulet of Ancestry, Inc.:

New Family Tree Maker Options

Since our Family Tree Maker announcement last December, we have continued to actively explore ways to develop and support Family Tree Maker and ensure you have choices to preserve your work in ways that matter to you.

Today, I am pleased to announce two options for desktop software that will work with Ancestry.

Software MacKiev

Software MacKiev, with whom we have a long-standing relationship, is acquiring the Family Tree Maker software line as publisher for both Mac and Windows versions. Software MacKiev has been the developer of Family Tree Maker for Mac for more than six years and is thrilled at the opportunity to publish future versions of Family Tree Maker for Mac and Windows.

This new agreement means you will receive software updates and new versions from Software MacKiev, and have the ability to purchase new versions of Family Tree Maker from Software MacKiev as they are released. You will have continued access to Ancestry Hints, Ancestry searches, and be able to save your tree on Ancestry with Family Tree Maker moving forward.

RootsMagic

We have made an agreement with RootsMagic, a leading genealogy desktop software program publisher, to connect Ancestry with the RootsMagic software by the end of 2016. With this new relationship, RootsMagic can serve as your desktop family tree software, while having access to Ancestry hints, Ancestry searches, and the ability to save your tree on Ancestry.

We have heard your concerns and are working to provide the solutions you requested. These new agreements will make it possible to preserve your work on Ancestry and Family Tree Maker and enable future features and benefits to help you discover your family history. Be assured that Ancestry, in cooperation with Software MacKiev and RootsMagic, will continue to support you as you discover your family history.

We ask for your patience as we work diligently through all the details to make these solutions available. Be sure to check back on our blog as we share more information about Family Tree Maker in the next few months.

President's Message

Spring is in the air and planning is under way. Our seminar committee is working towards a seminar next April. They'll have the details wrapped up soon but for right now circle April 22, 2017 in "pencil" on your new calendar. Also our board is finalizing the details for a beginning genealogy (four session) class this October on Saturdays. Do you have friends who might be interested? More details later.

We had a well-attended and very informative presentation at our April 9 meeting on researching eastern European family history. The language barrier is a big stumbling block and boundary changes and the war ravaged areas make genealogy research difficult in this part of the world. Dave Obee spoke of his methods of research to have successes and his perseverance paid off.

To keep our interest, V.P. Margie Wilson has arranged for Martha Collins to speak at our May 14 meeting. She will explain "How to Research People and Property using the National Register of Historic Places". House History research methods will be presented.

I'm looking forward to the June 11 presentation by Mary Roddy. Her subject is "Trails West!" involving the Great Western Migration along the Oregon Trail and other Trails West. Before the transcontinental railroad was completed Easterners and Mid-Westerners began to settle the West. How did they get there and what was their journey like? Her presentation covers overland and water routes with descriptions of the journey and using clues to discover how and when your ancestors traveled. Those of us with ancestors traveling to our state before 1900s should find this to be most interesting.

Now to just find time to continue my genealogy research using the hints and suggestions presented by our speakers. Warm weather and my other activities find me straying away from my genealogy endeavors. But as Dave Obee showed us, perseverance pays off. Good luck!

Genealogist's Disease

WARNING: Genealogy Pox
(Very contagious to adults)

SYMPTOMS: Continual complaint as to need for names, dates and places. Patient has a blank expression, sometimes deaf to spouse and children. Has no taste for work of any kind, except feverishly looking through records at libraries and courthouses. Has compulsion to write letters. Swears at mailman when he doesn't leave mail. Frequents strange places such as cemeteries, ruins, and remote, desolate country areas. Makes secret night calls, hides phone bills from spouse and mumbles to self. Has strange, faraway look in eyes.

NO KNOWN CURE

TREATMENT: Medication is useless. Disease is not fatal, but gets progressively worse. Patient should attend genealogy workshops, subscribe to genealogical magazines and be given a quiet corner in the house where he or she can be alone.

REMARKS: The unusual nature of this disease is- the sicker the patient gets, the more he or she enjoys it!

ANNE JENNER TO BE GUEST SPEAKER AT THE SCANDINAVIAN SIG

We're delighted to have Anne Jenner, Pacific Northwest Curator, University of Washington Special Collections, as our speaker at the May meeting of the Scandinavian Special Interest Group, on Sunday, May 15, from 1:30-3:30pm, at the Seattle Genealogical Society, 6200 Sand Point Way NE, Seattle.

Anne served as the head of the library at the Swenson Swedish Immigration Research Center, at Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Swedish-American Historical Society. Anne will discuss resources of interest to those researching their Scandinavian roots,

OUR ROOTS GO DEEP

Officially the Skagit Valley Genealogical Society is now six years old (1993). The roots of the society actually go back much further.

Many of the original members were part of a study group led by Margory Johnson. Her interest in the hobby began in the early 1950's.

Francis Byford believes the study group started around 1978. There was an afternoon and evening group. The afternoon group met at the Mount Vernon City Library. Susan Bos attended the evening group which also met at the library. This group later moved to Margory's home.

The groups offered one-to-one instruction and an opportunity to share a hobby. The attendance was small, normally 6 to 8 people. There was sharing of problems, successes, and car-pooling to Seattle libraries, archives and other places of research. Margory also conducted classes at the senior center. She spread her love and knowledge of genealogy to many in Skagit County.

Sharon Johnson and Colleen Thulen joined the group in the early 1980's. At this time there was only one group which met in the afternoon on the first Wednesday of each month at the library. These continued into 1986 until the death of Margory Johnson.

As we wondered what we should do without our leader, a new one stepped forward. Betty Fellion had been with the study group about two years. She was small in stature, meek in voice, quiet, and not who'd you expect to take over. But she saw the need and filled it.

At the November 5, 1986 meeting at the Knotty Pine Restaurant, six members decided to place an article in the newspaper to see who else was interested in forming an area genealogical society. Dee Ackerman and Zelda Stout of the Whatcom Genealogical Society in Bellingham attended giving us helpful information on what to do towards "society" formation. Charter members listed in the min-

Dee Ackerman, Edna Baiter, Dottie Burr, Betty Fellion, Ann Flath, Sharon Johnson, Gen McMullen, John Marian, Carol Oglesbee, Hazel Pilkinton, Colleen Thulen, Nola Van Wieringen, Lois Wold and Mary Jo Wolden

In January 1987 the first officers were chosen: Betty Fellion, President; John Marian, Vice President; Carol Oglesbee, Secretary and Colleen Thulen, Treasurer.

From tiny acorns mighty oaks grow. Wouldn't Margory and Betty be pleased with today's membership of over 120?

President's Message

The good news from the Washington State Genealogical Society (WSGS) Conference in Tacoma in June was that our very own Margie Wilson was selected for the prestigious President's Award. It was her inspirational talent and leadership skills making the ROOTS project a success that gave her the edge in the selection process plus serving as our librarian, publicity chair and more recently as our vice president. These are just the tip of the iceberg! In addition both George Ridgeway and Barbara Johnson were selected for the WSGS Outstanding Volunteer Awards. It is fun to work with dedicated members like these.

We are looking forward to our educational programs this fall. Starting off we have Janice Lovelace presenting an introduction to "Beyond Online: Courthouse Records" on September 10. She will give us insight into what to look for and where to find information about our ancestors in court records. On October 8 we will have an opportunity to talk about our ancestors in a program titled "Tell Us Your Ancestor's Story". Betty Tartas, Pat Pulver Fitzgerald and some of our members will tell unique and fascinating stories about their favorite ancestors. After our two main speakers our members will have about three minutes each to speak.

Would you or a friend like to improve or learn basic genealogy skills? Our society is offering a beginners genealogy class over four sessions on October 1, 8, 15 & 22 at the Burlington Public Library from 10 to noon. Invite your friends, neighbors, etc. to check into our fun hobby.

We need YOU! Secretary Muriel Neely is retiring at the end of this year (end of her second plus terms). So we will need someone to serve as our secretary for the next two years. Our society can't function without officers so give it some consideration. The president's term is up at the end of this year also so you have your choice of either position. Contact an officer or board member if you would like to learn more. Their contact information is on the second page of this newsletter.

Net Notes—A look at websites and related news.

New York City Marriage Records Indexes 1908-1929. Reclaim the records, www.reclaimtherecords.org, has been working to make vital records from NY and NJ available and accessible to researchers. As a result the index to the NY City Clerk's office marriage records (the application, affidavit and license) for 1908-1929 are online via Internet Archive-where they are free to access. This include : Manhattan, Bronx, Staten Island, Brooklyn and Queens. T <http://archive.org/details/nycmarriageindex>.

This issue had many interesting articles such as: Tippling and Temperance in the Family, Researching Northern Ireland, and The International Classification of Diseases. There of course were many other articles.

President's Message

A big "Thank You" goes to Barb Johnson and George Ridgeway for leading our genealogy classes during the month of October. I had the privilege of attending this series of classes and I always learned something new.

Our seminar committee is deep into their planning for our seminar on April 22, 2017. Yes, save the date for our "O Canada! Children of a Common Mother" seminar. This theme was selected in honor of Canada's 150th Anniversary of Confederation. For speakers it will feature Canadian and U.S. genealogists: Dave Obee and Mary Kathryn Kozy. On line registration begins on January 2, 2017.

At our annual meeting on November 12 we will be electing a president and secretary. As noted in our last newsletter Secretary Muriel Neely is retiring after many years as secretary. It is time for someone to volunteer to carry the ball and keep our society functioning properly. We will also be approving the 2017 budget. No ballot will be needed as we have no proposed bylaw revisions to consider and at this point no one has been nominated for secretary or president. These details will be ironed out at our meeting.

Our November meeting will start with V.P. Margie Wilson leading the education program titled "Brick Walls" which will include a "Used Book Bonanza".

Bring your genealogy related brick wall questions and ask our experts. It should be an informative day. Be sure to check out the books that Margie has made available to us for a small donation. So turnout and enjoy the afternoon with us.

There is no meeting in December so you will have more time with your families over the holidays. Have fun!

Christmas is coming, do you have pages of genealogy ready to put together for family members? Comb binding is a good way to make it a book.

Comb Binding ...

For members, The society owns a comb binding machine. If you call Dan Royal @ 360-826-6141 he will make arrangements to bind your pages into a book for you. Cost is: $1.00 per book to cover supplies.

RENEW YOUR MEMBERSHIP

Just a friendly reminder that dues are now due for the Skagit Valley Genealogical Society. In the event you may have already paid, it is possible that they were sent in and just haven't reached me yet. Our year goes from Jan. 1st through Dec. 31st. Dues this year have raised to $15.00 for single membership and $20.00 for family membership.

Days Gone By

“The special book upon the shelf
Was made with many hands.
Our ancestors who posed back then,
All came from different lands.

Their pictures were all tucked away,
And rarely did we see,
The importance of these treasures-
The start of you and me.

The history of our families,
Now here in black and white.
Preserved with special care and time,
Each page is done just right.

When time permits, we take it down,
And think of days long past. Our hopes, our dreams, our heritage,
All safe and made to last.”

A Wonderful Story By Judith Dicks

Several years ago, my son befriended an elderly lady, Cora Battelle, and became very close to her. When she passed away he was helping her step-daughter clean out Cora's home of all her lifelong possessions and prepare the home for sale. To his absolute horror all of Cora's personal possessions were thrown in the trash pile, including photos, mementos, and everything including Cora's genealogy and some very old photos and records.

Although my son had agreed to haul everything to the dump for this stepdaughter, he was so heartsick over the whole matter, he just could not do it. He brought Cora's things by my home and said he just didn't have the heart to throw her whole life away. What should he do? I told him to put it in our garage and then he could pick and choose later and maybe find someone who could really appreciate what this wonderful lady had left, since she had no descendants.

A short time later, we were looking through Cora's things and found her genealogy and records and pictures. Lo and behold, one of the surnames (SUTHERLAND) was one of our surnames and from the same general area. We haven't tied anything together yet, but we are working on it.

Maybe in the eyes of some we were wrong for not doing as he had been told to do and take everything to the dump. But, you know what? I am very proud of my son for his kindness and compassion for this lady and for realizing that, had he thrown everything away, there would have been no memories left that Cora had built during her lifetime, at least materially. Can you imagine having your genealogy thrown in the dump?

Genealogy Trivia:

If you figure there's 25 years between each generation, 500 years ago there were 1,048,576 people involved in creating YOU! YOU are special!

Teach Me Genealogy - www.tmgenealogy.com

This was sent to me by Barbara Johnson about her visit back east.

My trip to the National Archives in Washington, DC

My 3rd great grandfather, Charles Smalley, served in the Civil War on the Union side. His enlistment papers give his birth year at 1836. But...several other records record his birth year anywhere from 1836 to 1839; always with the same month and day, November 20. Hmm? How do I determine his actual birth year?

I noticed that he had applied for a pension and the file number was on the record at NARA (National Archives and Records Administration) in Seattle. Last October I had the opportunity to visit my son and his family in Manassa, Virginia. Well, of course, I had to take advantage of that and visit NARA in DC! After going through the process of being allowed in, I requested Charles Smalley's pension file. A couple of hours later, I went upstairs to the desk to pick up the file. It was a large manila envelope over 1 inch thick! The first paper I looked at was a hand written letter from 1870 stating that the family bible recorded his birth year as 1837!

Wow! Not only did I have a year of birth, I was holding a letter my ancestor had written. What a thrill!

I took over 150 photos of the items. It was fantastic! I didn't have the same luck at the Library of Congress but that was such a gorgeous Reading Room that I didn't mind. Plus I got to see the grandkids

Don't peek at the answer to the question on page 7. The answer to the question is 1869. We have different years of his birth. He was 106 years old when he died. This is William A. Brown born in Barker

Diane Partington from our society says that if anyone is looking for funeral or burial records from someone who died in Skagit County she can retrieve those records from 1908-1994.

If you are needing help with your genealogy give her a call. Her phone number is in our newsletter on page 2 under genealogist.

Good Advice for Genealogists

- Remember that when a family member passes away, they take a library of memories with them. It's a genealogist's duty to record them before that happens.
- Genealogy is like a magic mirror. Look into it, and pretty soon, interesting faces appear.
- The kind of ancestors you have is not as important as the kindness of their descendants.
- If you are the last living link between your grandparents and your grandchildren—don't break the chain.
- If you don't want your descendants to put a twisted spin on your life story, write it yourself!
- If you're the family photographer (and not showing up in photos), your family historian descendants will become upset with you.
- To get your family tree done the fastest, run for political office. Your opponents will have it completed way before the election, and then you can resign if you really didn't wish to run in the first place.
- Many genealogists neglect telling their own stories, while in the midst of telling the stories about others. Don't let that happen to your family.
- Your children may not thank you, but if you preserve the family genealogy your great great great great descendants will remember you as super-great!
- If someone's picture looks like they don't belong in the family tree, well, maybe they don't.
- Some think it's best to grow a family tree one leaf at a time—but as with the spring, you may find that many buds can be produced at the same time.
- Don't take life seriously. Every genealogist knows nobody gets out alive.
- If at first you don't succeed, search, search again. That is why we call it re-search.
